AUTO LICENSE FUNDS TO AID IN SEWER JOB

Sum Of $4,000 Ear-Marked For South Broadway WPA Project

SERVICE WORKERS ARE RECLASSIFIED

Ordinance Setting Up Pay Schedule Gets First Reading

An ordinance "ear-marking" $4,000 for the South Broadway storm water sewer, which is well under way, was approved by city council Tuesday night as an emergency measure.

The ordinance transferred that amount from the motor vehicle license fund to the Broadway sewer and paving project fund and not from the city's general fund as would be the procedure if the general fund were in better shape.

City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff requested the project money a month ago but council's finance committee headed by A. P. Morris, first had to determine where it could "dig up" the funds.

Classified for Defense
Although a number of WPA projects have been dropped since the national defense program got under way, Salem has been assured of a continuation of the sewer job since it has been classified as a defense project, the engineer explained.

Council last night gave a first reading to an ordinance reclassifying employees in the service department.

Proposed changes provide for one skilled laborer to be paid at the rate of 60 cents an hour; five machine (motor vehicle) operators, at 57 per cent an hour; five maintenance operators, at 55 cents an hour; seven common laborers, at 50 cents an hour, and all other casual or common laborers as may be necessary, at 45 cents an hour.

The employees will receive this pay scale only when actually doing the type of work called for in the new schedule, the ordinance specifies. The department, in addition, has a general foreman, and a street foreman, each receiving $135 a month. The present ordinance provides for the two foremen, one auto mechanic, receiving 60 cents an hour, one repairman, at 60 cents an hour, and common laborers, at 50 cents an hour.

Contamination Feared
Second Ward Councilman Arch Wentz called council's attention to the possibility of contamination of the Zelle well field from cess-pools which are being installed in a new

'See' South America In Story And Film

Mrs. R. E. Smucker was guest speaker at a meeting of the Quota Club following a dinner last night in the Memorial building. Giving a delightful account of her Caribbean cruise last year, when she visited the Panama Canal zone and Colombia, S. America, Mrs. Smucker gave her impressions of the places she saw and concluded by showing colored moving pictures taken during the trip.

Mrs. Smucker and her husband made the trip on a combination freight and passenger ship, whose captain, she learned, had taken the first boatload of men to France in the last war. He also had been captain of the ship on which President and Mrs. Harding sailed on a visit to Alaska some years ago, at the time Dr. and Mrs. Smucker were there.

First Stop at Cuba
The ship's first stop, after three and a half days' sailing along the coast, was in Cuba and the first landing at Kingston, Jamaica, an island upon which the United States will establish a military base, in agreement with England. The island of Jamaica is only 750 miles from the Panama Canal, only a few hours flying time, which makes an air base there important.

Mrs. Smucker described the island, her visit to the gardens there where visitors see 20 varieties of orchids and many other beautiful plants native to the island. The travelers went to Santa Marta, Colombia, from Jamaica and then to Barranquilla. The importance of U. S. relations with the countries to the south was emphasized by the speaker, who disclosed that people living in those countries believe that American business men and others who go to those countries to live should work

Axis Push Into Greece Brings Such Scenes As This

Top—Three generations of a Greek peasant family are pictured sitting among the ruins of their former home, now just so much rubble after Nazi dive-bombers completed their round of destruction over the village.

BLAZE IS HALTED AT DEMING PLANT

Roof and Upper Section of Foundry Storage Building Damaged

The roof and upper section of a storage building of the Deming Co.'s foundry was damaged by fire yesterday afternoon. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

The building where the fire occurred housed the old Wirsching organ works many years ago. Firemen were called at 4:03 p. m. and laid two lines of two and one-half inch hose to combat the blaze. Deming employees also laid two lines of hose and assisted firemen in extinguishing the flames. E. S. Dawson, plant superintendent, said no equipment was damaged.

Fire Chief Vincent Malloy was appreciative of the help given by the factory employees. Three more grass fires were fought by the department Tuesday. At 10:58 a. m. firemen were called to the Hillsdale area and at 11:54 a. m. to the Kidd farm on Route 14, about four miles northwest of the city, where two small farm sheds were destroyed by a grass fire.

At 8:17 p. m. the department extinguished a grass fire which was endangering the Locust Grove filling station on the Benton road.

LISBON, April 16.—The Lisbon public square presents a beautiful scene these days with hundreds of daffodils in full bloom in the attractive landscaped plots. ### Save Your Oil Until Scraper Gets Through Residents on dirt streets in the city were urged by city councilmen today to refrain from oiling the thoroughfares until service department crews have been able to scrape the roads.

C. F. Zimmerman, chairman of council's streets, alleys and sidewalks committee, said that although the scraper has been used already on some of the worst streets, they will be thoroughly scraped within the next few weeks.

AUTO, TRUCK TANGLE. NO ONE IS INJURED

State highway patrolmen investigated two Route 14 accidents near Salem late Tuesday. Occupants of the machines escaped injury.

An automobile driven by Mrs. Ann M. Profeta, 31, of Akron, and a truck operated by William Easterday, 37, of Cleveland, tangled on Route 14, three miles northwest of Salem, at 3:45 p. m. when Mrs. Profeta cut in too closely in passing the truck.

Her car spun around in the road and was struck by the truck before Easterday could stop. A machine driven by Mrs. Marguerite A. Vaughn of R. D. 3, Salem, was sideswiped by a car driven by Nicholas J. Sabella, 24, of Youngstown, on Route 14, one mile east of Salem at 10:15 p. m. Sabella was reported to have been driving his car without any lights.

THREE SECRET BILLS LISTED ON GAMBLING

Thirteen In All Returned By Grand Jury, Reporting Today

22 WITNESSES ARE QUIZZED BY JURORS

Salem Man Named In Rape Case; Embezzlement Count Secret

LISBON, April 16.—Thirteen true bills, including three secret indictments on gambling charges, were returned by the April grand jury which reported this afternoon, ending a two and one-half day session.

A fourth secret indictment was on an embezzlement charge. In addition, the grand jury ignored five cases and referred one to the juvenile court.

Only 22 witnesses were questioned by the jury in its investigations.

Salem Man Named

An indictment was returned against Clyde Schaffer of Salem, charged with assault with intent to rape a 17-year-old Salem girl a week ago.

Also indicted were Alfred Lloyd Brooks and Casper and Mike Romano, of Leetonia, and Claudius Nelder of Columbiana, charged with the robbery of Watkins service station on Route 30, two miles west of Lisbon.

Two other joint indictments were returned against the quartet for the burglary and larceny of the Shasteen service station in Salem and the Morris Oil Co. station in Leetonia. State highway patrol apprehended the youths.

A separate indictment charges Nelder with receiving and concealing stolen property.

Fred Ellis of Salem was indicted on a charge of issuing a fraudulent check.

Two charges of burglary and larceny and one of burglary were returned against Mead Hawkins, alias James White, East Liverpool potter, held in connection with a $65 High school burglary in East Liverpool.

The charge against Nocera dated back to 1931 and was dropped because the persons who had preferred the charge had since returned to Europe. The court nolleed the charge in order that Nocera might receive his U. S. citizenship papers.

West's First Solo Flight Is Success

Alden "Buzz" West, former Salem High school football player, who recently joined the army as a flying cadet, had his first solo flight the other day at the Spartan air corp training school at Tulsa, Okla.

His first solo lasted six hours and three minutes and "Buzz" was thrilled. On C-adet West's first training flight he learned the fundamentals of flying; how to work the stick and the rudder, how to make climbing and gliding turns, how to coordinate and how to "keep that nose up." The, too, there is a ground course, also with studies of navigation and meteorology.

Cadet West, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. West of 511 E. Second st. was graduated from Salem High in 1936. He went to Wittenberg college where he played football. Clarence Updegraff, his classmate at Wittenberg, is now his bunkmate at the Spartan training school. Both enrolled at about the same time.

Many British Captured, Is Berlin Claim

Germans Are Now 65 Miles Into Northern Greece; London Concedes Situation In Yugoslavia Is Bad

(By The Associated Press.)

Wide-open battle flamed along the entire British front in Greece today, and the Germans acknowledged that Hitler's blitzkrieg invasion was meeting "stubborn" resistance after previously asserting that the Allies were in headlong retreat.

"Our troops are now in contact with the enemy along the whole of our front in Greece," the British middle east command said tersely. It was apparent that a climactic struggle which may decide the fate of the Aegean kingdom was fast developing.

DNB, the official German news agency, said hundreds of British prisoners, including engineers—from the English midlands, Australia and New Zealand—had been captured by Nazi infantry in "hard fighting" in the mountains.

British quarters in Athens said German panzer spearheads were executing savage thrusts, but declared that nowhere had they overshot the new Allied defense line.

The apparent collapse of Yugoslavia, coupled with a 65-mile German break into northern Greece, gave a darker turn to events for the Allies, however, in the 11-day-old Battle of the Balkans.

London conceded that the situation in Yugoslavia was bad. Hitler's high command reported the capture of Sarajevo, central Yugoslavia, where the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand touched off the 1914-18 World war, and declared that "thousands of Serbs were surrendering."

Nazi Pressure Increasing
The British likewise acknowledged that the pressure of Nazi panzer divisions—striking on the Allied right flank and pouring through the lofty Statista pass to easier terrain to the south—was increasing violently.

The Greek legation in London asserted, however, that several "weak and doomed forts, isolated in eastern Macedonia when the Germans captured Salonika, were still holding out under terrific artillery and dive-bombing attacks."

Information reaching London indicating that Yugoslavia no longer has unified control over her armies, but it was believed that they would continue to fight as guerrillas.

The German high command, which last week asserted that the Serb army was "destroyed, declared today:

"The remnants of the Serbian army are nearing dissolution. The number of prisoners and the amount of booty are increasing hourly."

Premier Mussolini's high command said Italian troops had captured Yugoslavia's chief naval base at Split in a 240-mile thrust down the Adriatic seacoast, and that the town of Erseke, Albania, 30 miles south of fallen Corizza, had been retaken from the Greeks. The Fascists were said to be pressing on toward the nearby Greek frontier, rapidly approaching a junction with the Germans.

Suffer Heavy Losses
Greek front-line dispatches said the Germans suffered heavy losses in knifing a 65-mile salient into northern Greece, converging in two drives from Salonika and Bitolija pass.

There were strong indications, too, that the Allies were rallying to a stonewall defense after the Nazi break-through. After jubilantly declaring that the campaign in Greece was becoming a "rout," the Germans subsequently admitted that the blitzkrieg invasion was now meeting "stubborn opposition," and a Nazi spokesman in Berlin said laconically:

"The Balkan war has entered upon a new phase. Our army has succeeded in compelling the British forces in Greece to make a stand and face us in combat. We have crossed their plans."

This appeared to be an oblique admission that the British were not planning a "Dunkergue" flight from Greece, as Berlin propaganda had previously asserted.

LISBON SETS DATE OF SPRING CLEANUP

LISBON, April 16.—The annual spring clean-up will be held here the week of May 5, Mayor G. C. Rauch announced today. During that week residents have been requested to gather up the winter's accumulation of trash and rubbish and to place it along adjacent alleys or at the curb in front of their homes where it will be picked up by the city truck.

In addition to collecting rubbish and cans, the city trucks under the supervision of Street Commissioner Roy Patterson will also haul away ashes piled along the alleys or in other convenient places, Mayor Rauch announced.

The Lisbon Junior Chamber of Commerce is planning to sponsor a "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign in conjunction with the village clean-up program, Alfred J. Smith, president, announced.

HUGE TOLL FEARED IN MEXICO QUAKE

Dead, Injured Uncounted As Aid Is Rushed To Stricken States

(By Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, April 15.—Thousands were homeless and the dead and injured still were uncounted today as the government rushed aid to stricken cities and towns of seven states in the wake of devastating shocks in Mexico's southern earthquake belt yesterday.

Communications were crippled and the full magnitude of the property destruction and human toll, especially in the more remote sections, may not be known for days.

Colima, capital of Colima state, 275 miles west of Mexico City, appeared to be hardest hit of the towns able to communicate with the capital. Gov. Pedro Torres Ortiz radioed that half of the city's 15,000 residents were homeless, dead or injured.

CONFESSIONS OF A WISHFUL THINKER

Japan already pledged to go to the assistance of Germany-Italy if the United States goes the whole way on aid to Britain, now has exchanged neutrality promises with Russia, plainly a war move against the Anglo-American diplomatic front . . . Germany's mechanized forces have advanced across Libya to Egypt faster than the Italians retreated and may be threatening Suez months before the first supplies from the United States can reach that vital spot . . . The war in the Balkans, though in the jumble that characterize mechanized wars once the issue is closed, clearly is not going to be a resounding victory for the Anglo-Greek-Yugoslav forces. The most they can hope for is a standoff; they lack both the manpower and equipment to score a victory . . . The battle of the Atlantic is going as badly for the British as they feared it would . . . An Italian press puppet recently has snarled that big brother Germany is about ready to undertake the invasion of the United Kingdom.

It looks like a long dry spell for wishful thinkers. They have been folding up like confidence men at a police convention. Anyone who can believe Japan is only kidding, that the British in Africa are "retiring to previously fortified positions"—the way the French did in France—that Germany is going to yell, "Kamerad!" in the Balkans, or that the battle of Britain suddenly is going to turn out to be a bad dream, came equipped with more imagination than most standard models of homo sapiens carry when they come off the assembly line. But wishful thinking was great stuff while it lasted.

First, there never was going to be any more war at all. The statesmen would pass a law against it, the people would pass resolutions, and that would be the end of war. Later, the prospect had to be whittled down to no more war among white men; what happened to men of color was relatively unimportant, because they were inclined to be backward. Then it began to appear that bad will had crept in among the white men, too. In fact, it began to appear that the only way to keep from having war was to trust in the French army and the British navy, because they were too tough to be challenged. When that wishful thought went with the wind, along with the whole French nation and all of northern Europe, responsibility came to rest on Great Britain. There would always be an England—Americans hoped.

To prove how earnest they were about hoping there always would be an England, they promised to send it all aid short of war. What they really meant was all aid short of war and sacrifice, and they hoped that would be enough to turn the tide. They also hoped it wouldn't turn out to be another case of "too little and too late," because if it did that would mean a headache. Meanwhile they hoped, if it did turn out to be a headache, that somehow the British navy would escape and come over here to protect them, and that if it didn't escape it would be destroyed after first sinking all the German navy.

The story of wishful thinking runs on at great length. It contains many footnotes and a large appendix. It is the story of human beings who hoped so hard that something wouldn't happen they unconsciously did almost everything under the sun to make it happen. The illusion has been destroyed, though it still is hard to face the blunt, cold fact it's still the same world it always has been—a world of endless battling for survival, with the victory going to those who feel least, not most, secure.

THE ALL-INCLUSIVE TERM

Perhaps it's no worse than it always was, and it might even be better, but the hoodoo of the all-inclusive term still gets in its dirty work.

American labor is a label pinned blindly on the whole working population, without regard to the fact there are as many different points of view among laboring men as there are anywhere else, that some believe in unionism of one kind, some in another kind, and some prefer to believe in no unionism at all.

For conversational purposes, there still is an "axis" in Europe, though all evidence supports the belief that Italy has been as completely absorbed in German military power as Hungary, or Bulgaria, or Rumania. And there still is mention of the war being waged by the "democracies," despite the fact the only near approach to a democracy on earth is the United States, which is not waging war.

Some of the byproducts of war are the convenient convictions that all Britons are keeping a stiff upper lip, that all Germans are reflected in the paranoid personality of Hitler, that all Italians are cast in the mold of Mussolini, that all news from abroad is propaganda, that South Americans want to be good neighbors, that the Japanese are martinetts and spies—and that national unity, which is the all-inclusive term to end all-inclusive terms, should include everything everybody wants to have included. When laziness thinking is done, the all-inclusive terms will do it.

CONCERNING "HEART PROBLEMS"

Some Fallacies Regarding Defects Are Cited

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

A woman came weeping to me the other day because she had been told her son had a heart murmur. I don't know how many people I have had to calm down because some doctor or life insurance examiner had told them they had a large heart or enlargement of the heart. Then there is the host of people who lead ten or twenty years of tragic life because they hear they have valvular disease of the heart.

These things really mean very little. A valvular defect is merely a mechanical derangement in a mechanical organ. A murmur is the outward and visible sign of it. Enlargement of the heart is the compensation Nature makes to overcome the mechanical derangement.

The important thing to know about the heart is whether it is doing its work. It is a muscular organ and a muscle is intended to be designed by Nature to do work. It is true enough the hardest worked muscle in the body. But it does its work, which is to keep the blood circulating, other things about it are of minor significance.

Valvular Defect
Of course a valvular defect if real and persistent (many of the ones that are so diagnosed are neither real nor persistent) adds to the work of the heart, puts an extra strain on the heart muscle and tends to wear it out sooner than normal.

But not necessarily much sooner! The weeping mother who had discovered her boy had a murmur can take heart from a news clipping one of my colleagues brought me the other day. It was from an obituary column in a medical journal (therefore somewhat more reliable on technical points than the ordinary) and recorded the death of a doctor from valvular (mitral) disease. He died at the age of 92. That's a long time to carry so dangerous a thing as a murmur.

A doctor in Toronto whose wards I was visiting asked me how many children I thought a woman with mitral valvular disease could be allowed to have safely without damaging her heart muscle. I allowed four. He said "Step this way"—and took me into a room where a patient of his with mitral defect had just had her thirteenth child.

Enlarged Heart

Saying that a person has an enlarged heart is just saying that the body reactions are normal. We all have enlarged hearts sooner or later. When a fellow's blood pressure rises as time goes on (and it does in three out of every five people) if his heart doesn't enlarge he just isn't. It's the enlargement of the heart that keeps him alive.

It's like saying to an engineer on a locomotive that is carrying a train up a mountain—"Why you have enlargement of your locomotive is going to get the train up the hill. But when the locomotive is large or small is no longer able to move the cars up the slope, then the engineer is really in trouble. Only when your heart, large or small, murmurous or not, no longer pumps the blood through the system need you begin to get perturbed about it.

Questions And Answers

Daily Reader: "Will eating several tablespoons of coffee grounds each day cause harmful effects?"
Answer—This seems to me a very poor way to take coffee, but not necessarily harmful, although you get a good deal more coffee that way than you would in several cups of coffee.

D. W.: "What is the cause and cure for small white, seed warts in a young girl?"
Answer—These are probably due to infections. They are best treated either by the application of the end of a cork moistened with formaldehyde, several times a day, or by X-ray.

Gathers just below the fan-shaped yokes, and shirring above the waist line hold softness through the bodice panels. Use all one fabric or try the panels in dramatic contrast. The sleeves are in short or gathered three-quarter length. You may use contrasting bow ends of grosgrain ribbon on the belt or have a plain self-fabric belt with a buckle. Rich lace edging is a pretty trim for this belle-of-your-wardrobe frock.

Pattern 4735 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 3 1/4 yards 39 inch fabric and 1 yard ribbon.

ABOUT THIS MATTER OF

"Clutches"

LET'S GO TO THE MAT!

IF THERE'S A CLUTCH PEDAL HERE, IT'S NOT A CAR WITH HYDRA-MATIC DRIVE!

HYDRA-MATIC

IS THE ONLY DRIVE IN THE WORLD THAT

1. ELIMINATES CLUTCH PEDAL ENTIRELY!

2. GIVES FULLY AUTOMATIC SHIFTING!

*Optional at Extra Cost on all Models

LOOK at the floor mat before you buy any car with a new type of "drive." If you find a clutch pedal, it's a sure sign that a clutch pedal is needed — for part-time shifting of gears. In a Hydra-Matic Oldsmobile, of course, you'll find no clutch pedal at all. Gears shift automatically through all four forward speeds. You get full accelerating power without manual shifting.

And you get performance that puts you right out ahead!

The latest screen version of Jack London's most successful adventure novel, "The Sea Wolf", gives the role of the brutal captain, Wolf Larsen, to Edward G. Robinson. The picture shows at the State Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Supporting cast includes John Garfield, Ida Lupino, Alexander Knox, Gene Lockhart, Barry Fitzgerald, Stanley Ridges, David Bruce and Francis McDonald.

The story of a writer, and a girl who is a fugitive from justice, who are taken aboard the ship "Ghost" as survivors of a ferry wreck and find the rest of the pieces of the puzzle which is their lives, is excellently done, with powerful portrayals of the London characters.

The half-mad captain of the ship drives his crew to mutiny and the two survivors, together with a cabin boy, attempt to leave the ship. But their lives seem linked with the fate of the ship and its master, and they find themselves once more passengers on the "Ghost".

Concluding at the State tonight is the mystery-comedy, "Footsteps in the Dark", with Errol Flynn, as an amateur hawkshaw, Brenda Marshall, Allen Jenkins, Alan Hale Ralph Bellamy, and Lee Patrick.

At the Grand tonight are: A murder-mystery, "Meet Boston Blackie", with Chester Morris, Rochelle Hudson, Richard Lane and Constance Worth; and a comedy-romance, "Melody for Three", with Jean Hersholt as Dr. Christian, Fay Wray, Walter Woolf King, Astrid Allwyn, Toscha Seidel, famous violinist, and a young violinist, Schuyler Standish.

Vegetable puree, nearly two million cases, and fruit puree, over 800,000 cases, are canned yearly especially for infants.

'See' South America In Story And Film

To promote the friendliest relations with their people, the country of Colombia, as large as Alaska, with two million more people than New York City, was discovered by Columbus on his first trip to the new world and is the only country named for him. A backward country, Colombia's progress and its relationship with other nations has been impeded by the mountainous, though beautiful, terrain.

Three ranges of the Andes crossing the country make traveling difficult. Poor roads and railroads make the country inaccessible to travelers. Businessmen interested in bringing the great natural products of the country to the world have partially opened the country to the export of coffee, bananas, oil, gold, silver and emeralds.

Tells of Cartagena
Mrs. Smucker described her visit to Cartagena, second oldest city in Colombia, its cathedrals, monasteries and palaces.
Her account of their stop at the Panama Canal, the 42-mile long waterway linking our east coast with out western coast, included a brief history of its beginning by the French, who were forced to discontinue the work, its continuation by the Colombian government and its completion in 1914 by the U. S. government.

Miss Mona McArthur, president, in charge of the meeting, welcomed the club's three new members, Miss Nora Greenwald, Miss Erma Ramsever and Miss Ruth Olenour.
Miss Lillie Curtis, a member of the program committee, introduced the guest speaker. The committee also included Miss Eva Simpson and Mrs. Marie Roth.
Plans were made whereby the losers in a recent benefit contest will entertain the winners at a dinner April 29 at the Warner tearoom in Lisbon. The dinner will precede the club's regular meeting.
The tables were attractive with centerpieces of daffodils.

Don't saw off the limb!

DON'T ever cut yourself off from the source of NEWS. Sometimes the temptation is great. It isn't pleasant to hear bad news, for instance—reports of storms, or floods, or disasters; stories of failure, corruption in high places, scandals or danger.

Those who propose CENSORSHIP to keep bad news away do not realize how dangerous their proposals are.

They do not realize the force of the oldest adage in a free man's copy book: "Forewarned is forearmed!" Somehow they fail to see that, in a free country, any man who knows or sees a danger (or, conversely, a way of escape, a hope) is duty-bound to REPORT what he sees.

That is the first job of a newspaper, its very reason for existence, its JUSTIFICATION in a land where freedom of worship and thought and expression is the very foundation of a way of life!

Your newspapers can deceive you in only one fashion—failing, as a WHOLE GROUP, to give you the TRUTH. One editor or a dozen may err, may see or honestly believe what does NOT exist. One or a dozen businessmen, using your newspaper's advertising columns, may overdraw their claims—and still no great harm is done. Other editors, other merchants will soon prove them wrong—IF (and mark this well) if you haven't mistakenly sawed off your only connection with the SOURCE OF NEWS: the right of any man to speak his mind!

In Germany and in Italy, the deeds of the government are, without exception, reported as GOOD. No newspaper DARES to report a flood of scandal, corruption, weakness or blunder. No citizen needs to know the truth, for he has no POWER anyway.

Here in America, on you, the citizen, rests the problem of sharing in the running of a vast and great nation. You have given the PRESS the job of reporting to you all that happens.

This the press does. Whether it be the results of a baseball game, the results of an election or the resolutions passed by the Rotary Club.

The newspaper is your CONNECTION with what goes on around you. Cut it or starve it or hamper it at your own peril.

You have power over the newspaper because you "elect" it to office every day. Never give this power over to a GOEBBELS or a GAYDA or any Bureau of Propaganda—or you lose YOUR VERY SOURCE of uncontrolled news and opinion—YOUR VERY FREEDOM.

Over 300 leading newspaper publishers join together to bring you this weekly message about the function of the press in a free nation. Newspaper Publishers Committee, 420 Lexington Ave., New York.

Record Crowd Sees Feller Bow To Sox In Opener

Wearing colorful Indian (above) feathers on their heads, more than 40,000 fans watched Bob Feller open the season for the Cleveland Indians against the Chicago White Sox in Cleveland municipal stadium. This photo was taken in the first inning as Feller turned loose a fast ball to a Chicago batter.

Below, dazed and bruised, Bill Dietrich, bespectacled Chicago White Sox hurler, lies on the ground while the Sox trainer works over him after one of Bob Feller's fast curves hit him in the first half of the second inning. A pinch runner was put in for Dietrich, but he returned to pitch in the last half of the inning. In the fifth inning Feller was struck by one of Dietrich's pitches.

Easy and fast to apply . . . has excellent hiding

New "self-cleaning" light colors, too.

BRILLIANTLY white at the start, Du Pont House Paint keeps houses whiter because it stays cleaner! Here's why:—

Du Pont Prepared Paint forms a tough, durable film which protects the surface from rust, rot or decay. Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface of this new paint. This powder is washed away by heavy rains, carrying the dirt with it, and exposing a fresh white surface. This "self-cleaning" process starts after a few months of exposure under normal conditions of weather, but may be delayed under unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions. Because the "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected. Its economy lies in the fact that it stretches the time between paintings. Remember: Du Pont House Paint costs no more than other good paints. Ask your painting contractor to use it!

SYNOPSIS

Captain "Dynamite" Danny O'More, head of O'More Seiners Ltd., a Sitka, Alaska, herring industry, is dictating his memoirs to his spirited, young granddaughter, Sondra. His story goes back fifty years to the time when he, as master of the sealer, "Glory of the West" was hunted by Captain Ramps Reynall, terror of seal poachers. Danny was in love with Reynall's daughter, Jacqueline, but just as their wedding seemed imminent, a quarrel parted them. Danny left Sitka but returned a year later, in command of a new ship, "The Triton." He remained only long enough to marry Tanya Karamanova, descendant of one of Sitka's aristocratic Russian settlers. Immediately after the wedding, Jacqueline took a cruise around the world. Two years ago, "Dynamite" retired as executive of a Seattle steamship company and returned to "Echo House," his late wife's ancestral home. The Captain interrupts his reminiscing to peer through his binoculars at something on the wharf. Curious, Sondra looks too and exclaims, "It's old Miss Jacqueline Reynall! What in the world brought her home without a word of warning, after two years in Florida?" "No concern of ours!" snaps her grandfather. "Come, let's have a look at what you've been writin'."

CHAPTER TWO

Dynamite had a way of turning crusty at the mention of Miss Jacqueline's name that made Sondra lose patience with him. But when she returned to the window time she turned to the window with the manuscript her temper was gone. She felt again that wondering anticipation of the unknown which the advent of Miss Jacqueline never failed to arouse in her. Something was going to happen. Something always did happen when that proud and arrogant spinster returned from her wanderings to her big white house on Tea Garden Hill.

Sondra realized, obscurely, that what really stirred her was Miss Jacqueline's connection with Jean Reynall, a slim, dark boy who had been the hero of her childhood. His father was Miss Jacqueline's foster son, adopted in an era when maidens did not go in for that sort of thing. But with her customary disdain of public opinion, Miss Jacqueline had come back from one of her very early cruises carrying the infant in her arms. She had reared him successfully, put him through Annapolis, and when he, a lieutenant commander, died soon after the world war, she had brought home his orphaned son, Jean, eleven years old.

Sondra was only five at the time, yet she remembered vividly everything that had to do with Jean Reynall. Their first meeting occurred one morning on the snowy street in front of the old log Cathedral of St. Michael. She was on her way to kindergarten, with the fat Creole housekeeper Polena, going ahead to sweep snow from her path, when the new boy had overtaken them, dragging a red sled. "Hello, little girl!" He had a friendly, eager voice. "Won't you let me haul you to school?"

Polena, whirling on him with broom upraised, shouted: "Get away from us, you Reynall rascal! How dare you speak to an O'More?"

"Jean!" a crisp voice cut in. And there stood Miss Jacqueline, tall, silver-haired, wrapped in mink fur; her Japanese cook behind her with a market basket. Come with me, Jean. Let this child proceed."

The boy raised his mitted hand saluting authority, but stood his ground. Sondra flung herself flat on the sled clutching its edges. "I won't proceed!" she yelled. "I want to ride with this boy." Indians and whites gathered in a grinning circle about them. With each attempt Polena made to drag her off, Sondra yelled and kicked more vigorously. Finally Miss Jacqueline snapped: "Stubborn brat. Just like her old grandfather." And turning, she swept arrogantly through the spectators, who respectfully made way for her.

Sondra stopped in the middle of a howl to look up and smile at the waiting boy. He grinned back at her. Then, with a triumphant shout, he pranced forward between the ropes of the sled. Polena waddled behind, shaking her broom and cursing in Russian.

Sondra had never forgotten Jean's eyes, as he kept looking back at her. They were dark blue, brilliant, and slightly tilted at the outer corners; and even at the age of five she was aware that they regarded her with complete approval.

"Dynamite, honey," she said aloud. "Do you remember Jean Reynall?"

A violent rustling of manuscript was the only answer.

"Last spring I came near meeting him again, after all these years. A bunch of us from Stanford had gone up to a Yacht Club affair in San Francisco. The Mermala was in—that swanky big yacht. Doran, the tobacco king, plays around in. Just back from a world cruise, she was, with Jean Reynall as sailing master. The papers were full of the story—how the engines had gone haywire in a typhoon, or whatever they have in the China Sea; and how 'Lucky' Jean Reynall, with engines dead, had sailed her clear across the Pacific and in to the Yacht Harbor at San Francisco. Made a passage that compared favorably with the best records of old-time clippers, too. A wonderful achievement for a master so young and—"

"Master, me eye!" exploded the Captain. "Tis a yachtsman, ye mean. Varnish and gingerbread, work and stinkin' oil-burners to shove him along on his course with as little deviation as a trolley car. Reynall's but a rich man's cabin boy with gold braid on his sleeves—and the devil's own luck. What can the likes of such know about real sail?"

Sondra shrugged. "Search me. I didn't meet the salty lad. We waited for him to show up until the very last, but—"

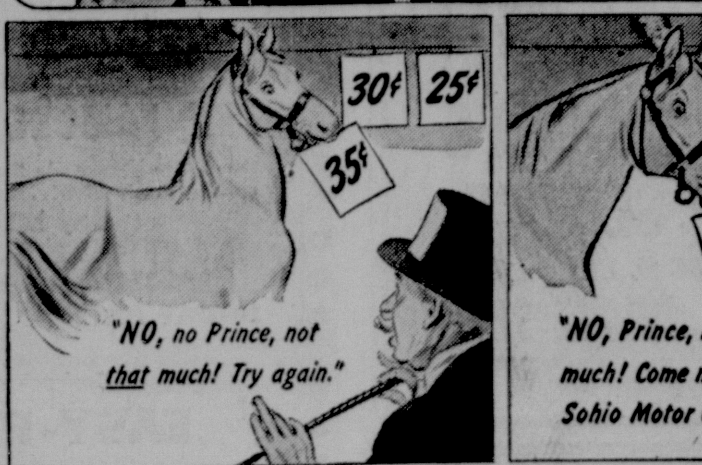

"Jean!" a crisp voice cut in. And there stood Miss Jacqueline, tall, silver-haired, wrapped in mink fur; her Japanese cook behind her with a market basket. Come with me, Jean. Let this child proceed."

The boy raised his mitted hand saluting authority, but stood his ground. Sondra flung herself flat on the sled clutching its edges. "I won't proceed!" she yelled. "I want to ride with this boy." Indians and whites gathered in a grinning circle about them. With each attempt Polena made to drag her off, Sondra yelled and kicked more vigorously. Finally Miss Jacqueline snapped: "Stubborn brat. Just like her old grandfather." And turning, she swept arrogantly through the spectators, who respectfully made way for her.

Sondra stopped in the middle of

"...and now, Ladies and Gentlemen, Prince, the educated horse, will tell you the price of Ohio's most popular premium-quality oil!"

"NO, no Prince, not that much! Try again."

"NO, Prince, not even that much! Come now, what does Sohio Motor Oil cost?"

"THAT'S RIGHT! Only 25¢ a qt. plus taxes, ladies and gentlemen, for premium-quality Sohio Motor Oil."

"No wonder Ohio people buy more Sohio Motor Oil than any other brand at any price! And remember, it's only 25¢ a qt., plus taxes."

Hop to it, baby. Hop to it."

Sondra came to her feet and crossed to a high Javanese chest near the door, where the Captain kept his finest liquors.

She called down an old-fashioned speaking tube and ordered a jug of boiling water. While she waited, her hands busy with bottles and a toddy mug, her mind returned to Jean Reynall. During the years of his absence their brief childhood friendship had lived vividly in her memory. Without being really conscious of it, his was the figure on which she had modeled all her dreams of romance and adventure.

It was only since her return from Stanford that she had become sophisticated enough to tell herself, "Forget your dreams, Sondra O'More. You'd better say 'yes' to Kemp Starbuck the next time he asks you to marry him. He's young and kind. He's devoted. You like the same things. You have fun together."

Yet, she never could quite bring herself to say "Yes" to Kemp.

WOMAN FILES SUIT ON BEHALF OF SON

LISBON, April 16.—Mrs. Mildred Buzzard of East Liverpool filed an action in common pleas court here Monday on behalf of her two-year-old daughter, Martha Joan, seeking damages in the sum of $7,500, and costs, naming Montgomery Ward & Company, Inc., as defendants.

The petition states that the child had gone with her mother to the store of the defendant company in East Liverpool, last Nov. 13, for the purpose of inspecting stock. While on the third floor of the store, the child wandered onto the elevator, which, it is alleged, was unguarded, and fell through an unguarded space of the rear of the platform, a distance of 65 feet, and suffered severe injuries to her head, lower back and hips.

Surprises Are Plentiful In Major Leagues' Opening Contests

Reds, Derringer Bow To Cards; Dean Stops Yanks With 5 Hits; Feller Fails

Even Lowly Phillies Whip Bees With Blanton's Five-Hit Pitching; Dodgers Take Four-Run Lead Then Lose To Giants

By JUDSON BAILEY

Opening day in the big leagues couldn't have been any more surprising if Judge Landis had shown up at one of the games in a high silk hat.

By now everybody ought to be ready to expect the unexpected from their baseball favorites the first few times out, but it's demanding a lot to ask anyone to foresee such wholesale carnage as seven games produced for 195,339 fans yesterday.

The World Champion Cincinnati Reds were whipped 7-3 and Paul Derringer, their ace pitcher, knocked out of the box by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Bob Feller, whose no-hitter was the sensation of opening day last year, lasted only six innings against the Chicago White Sox this time and the Cleveland Indians were edged out 4-3.

The New York Yankees, after getting a flying start at Washington Monday, were subdued 3-1 by the Philadelphia Athletics with Lovell (Chubby) Dean pitching five-hit ball.

Brooklyn's cocky Dodgers were caught by the New York Giants, who hopped on Whitlow Wyatt for a four-run rally in the eighth inning and won 6-4.

Even the lowly Philadelphia Phillies participated in the surprise party, beating the Boston Bees 6-3 on the four-hit hurling of Cy Blanton, an exile from Pittsburgh.

The nearest approaches to form in the entire day were the Chicago Cubs conquering Pittsburgh 7-4 and the Boston Red Sox squeezing past the Washington Senators 7-6. And even these had their elements of surprise, as did the postponement of Detroit's opening at St. Louis because of rain after many fans already had gathered at the ball park.

The attendance for the seven games was 11,300 better than last year's total for eight contests and apparently proved that interest in baseball is as keen as ever.

With three exceptions pitching was not up to par yesterday and batters reaped a harvest of 133 hits including no less than 14 home runs.

The day's best mound job was Chubby Dean's, who allowed only five hits and didn't let a Yankee get past second until the A's had the game in the bag in the ninth. He was helped considerably by a two-run homer by Sam Chapman, who had hit seven for the circuit in exhibition games.

Ruffing Victim Twice

On opening day last year Dean held the Yankees to six hits and beat them 2-1 by driving in the winning run in the tenth inning. In both games, a year apart, his victim was Red Ruffing.

The four hits Blanton gave up for the Phils included a home run with one on by Max West and another by Eddie Miller with two on, thus accounting for all Boston's runs. Joe Marty and Nick Etten homered for the Phils.

Brooklyn gave its 31,604 followers a premature thrill by taking a 4-0 lead in the first four innings when Prince Hal Schumacher lost control and walked eight men. But young John Rucker put the Giants back in the running with a triple that scored two mates in the fifth and then in the eighth the Giants bunched five hits, two of them doubles, for the victory.

Chicago's triumph over the Pirates rested on a three-run homer by Bill Nicholson in the third. Lou Novkoff, the Cubs' rookie outfielder, went hitless and Lou Stringer, breaking in at shortstop, committed no fewer than four errors.

Joe Cronin and Bob Doerr hit homers for the Red Sox, but even so Boston was a beaten team until young Sid Hudson of the Senators weakened in the ninth and the Sox scored three times to nose out in front.

Fight Results

(By Associated Press)

New York—Pete Lello, 134, Gary, Ind., and young Bobby Ruffin, 130½, Astoria, N. Y., drew (10). Kaukauna, Wis.—Phil Zwick, 130, Kaukauna, knocked out Jimmy Maddox, 135, Terre Haute, Ind. (2). Los Angeles—Jackie Wilson, 135, Cleveland, knocked out Memo Llanes, 134½, Mexico (1).

Per capita expenditures in motion picture theaters amounted to $5.11 during 1939. The American public spent more than $673,000,000 for movies in that year, according to the census.

POLLY AND HER PAIS

MILNAR NAMED TO FACE CHICAGO IN TRY FOR 1ST WIN

Chisox Down Indians In Opener On Feller's Wildness

CLEVELAND, April 16.—Unshaken by Bob Feller's 4 to 3 defeat in the opener, the Indians moved out to historic League park today, to get started on the business of winning the American league pennant.

Al Milnar, the big southpaw who triumphed 18 times last year, was picked to bag the important No. 1 victory. Chicago singled out for mound duty another outsider, Edgar Smith, whose 1940 record was 14 and 9.

Leaves In Seventh

Despite encouragement from a record inaugural-day throng of 46,064 Feller couldn't produce at the stadium yesterday and finally left the game in the sixth inning for a pinch-hitter. Before departing Bob allowed five hits and four runs, walked seven and hit two batters.

The Indians collected seven singles off the delivery of bespectacled Bill Dietrich, but the top of the batting order failed in the pinches and nine runners were left stranded on the bases.

The game provided optimistic if tentative answers to two questions posed often by Cleveland followers: Will Jeff Heath finally hit and hustle and has the weak relief pitching corps been strengthened?

The unpredictable Heath slashed two hard drives down the right field foul line for singles. Joe Heving and Clint Brown, the winter's additions to the bullpen brigade, hurled the last three innings and shut out the Sox with two hits.

Four Top Men Hitless

Roy Weatherly, Ken Keltner, Lou Boudreau and Gerry Walker, four of the five top men in the Cleveland batting order, went hitless in 18 trips to the plate and that explains the lack of tribal runs.

The Indians picked up their first tally in the fourth on Hal Tracy's double and Heath's single, another in the fifth on Rollie Hemmley's single, a hit batsman, sacrifice and fielders choice and the final marker in the eighth on Ray Mack's 400-foot home run into the lower left field stands.

The good-neighbor regime of Manager Roger Peckinpaugh was illustrated in the second inning after Feller hit Dietrich on the pitching arm with a fast ball. The Cleveland pilot allowed Don Kolloway to run for Dietrich while the hurler had his arm massaged in the Chicago dugout.

Dietrich nipped Feller on the right arm in the fifth, but the pitch was a change-of-pace offering and Bob wasn't hurt.

Class A Managers Will Meet Friday

With action in the major leagues under way, as the signal for the beginning of diamond activities throughout the country, Salem softballers are turning their thoughts toward the 1941 campaign.

As the first step in the local season, managers of all Class A teams will meet at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the Memorial building to discuss plans for reorganization of the circuit. Joe Kelley, who has called the meeting, stresses that it is essential for all clubs, both old and new, to be represented so that definite arrangements can be made for starting the season.

A meeting of Class B club managers will probably be held early next week, Kelley said.

Jockey Tells Jurors Of Race Fixing and Bribes

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—Willis Ward, 19-year-old suspended jockey, told a superior court jury he pulled four mounts in one day of the 1939 Hollywood park season but his fifth horse won despite his efforts to make it lose.

Testifying in the trial of five men on jockey-bribery charges, Ward declared he received $200 for each race he kept his horse from winning. He said he was paid approximately $4,000 for fixing races at Hollywood park and Del Mar tracks in 1939.

In one seven-horse race at Del Mar on August 18, Ward testified, every rider but one was fixed, and the horse ridden by the unbribed jockey won.

Salem Duels Rayen In Meet Tonight

Coach Fred Cope's Salem High tracksters will open their 1941 season this afternoon when they meet Youngstown Rayen at the Reilly stadium at 4.

The meet should be pretty much of a tossup. Rayen usually has a better than average squad while Salem is of unknown quality.

The nucleus of the Quaker team this year consists of two veterans, Elliott Hansell, dash man, and Tom Rhodes, pole vaulter. Both of these lads have proven their mettle and should be two big point getters this year. Hansell is running the hundred in a little over ten seconds, and is showing even better results in the 220. Rhodes has already cleared the bar at 11 feet and shows promise of nearing 12.

However, most of the athletes representing Salem tonight are newcomers and therefore a question mark, but if early practices have been any indication these boys will present a strong track and field team.

Some of the outstanding prospects include Wright in the hurdles, Krepps in the broad jump, Meyer in the discus, and Kleon in the pole vault. Meyer has already reached the 134-foot mark with the discus, which is good enough to capture points in the majority of meets. Kleon, who is only a freshman, has cleared ten feet in the pole vault.

Tonight's meet will probably uncover some more hidden talent.

Fans To Get Break In Races at Poughkeepsie

NEW YORK, April 16.—For the first time in the 43 years that college crews have been racing on the Hudson river at Poughkeepsie, spectators will know what is going on during the race next June 25.

It's all due to Asa Bushnell, who started rowing followers a few years ago when he built a grandstand at the finish of Princeton's Lake Carnegie course and managed to make rowing pay some of its expenses. He took over the management of the Poughkeepsie regatta this year when the Intercollegiate Rowing association joined the central office for Eastern intercollegiate athletics.

Bushnell's plan is simple—to arrange a short wave race hookup by which spectators along the shore and on the observation train can be kept informed about the positions of the crews and any decisions made by the judges. Details have not been fully worked out yet.

He has decided that all boat-houses will be linked with the committee boat, the judges' boat and the observation train so that any rulings by the officials and results of the races can be transmitted immediately to all parts of the course.

CARDINALS SHOW POWERFUL SQUAD IN DOWNING REDS

World Champs Are Out To Even Things Up In Game Today

(By Associated Press)
CINCINNATI, April 16.—One swallow does not make a summer and one ball game is at most about 1-90th of a pennant, but that one ball game may contain hints of things to be.

With this mind, the Cincinnati Reds, champions of the world, must go out today to even things up and prove that yesterday's sound 7-3 beating at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals was just one of those things.

Manager Bill McKechnie, who accepted a diamond ring, flowers, and all kinds of good words in the full belief that his Reds would start earning them all over again, couldn't make up his mind immediately on today's pitcher. He said it would be either Johnny Vander Meer, the double-no-hit hero of 1938, rookie Elmer Riddle, or veteran Jim Turner.

Billy Southworth of the Cardinals is depending on Morton Cooper who won two and lost two against the Reds last year.

Cardinals Show Power

What happened in the opening day game before a capacity crowd of 34,940 is pretty clear in retrospect. The Cardinals, who are quite widely touted as the threat of the league, showed a powerful, finely geared, and expertly driven machine to the sorrowing multitude.

The power was wrapped up in three booming home runs by Ernie Koy, Encs Slaughter, and Johnny Mize and doubles by Martin Marion and Terry Moore. Neither Ace Paul Derringer nor Fireman Joe Beggs seemed able to do much about it.

Frank McCormick, the Reds' stalwart first baseman and the National league's most valuable player, contributed two all-out shots himself and added a single, but that unfortunately was about the extent of the Cincinnati offense. It took two singles, an infield play, and a ground rule double by Eddie Joost to get the Reds' other run across.

Donovan To Referee

COLUMBUS, April 16.—Arthur Donovan of New York, rated the country's No. 1 fistic referee, accepted today the job of handling the April 29 fight between Charles (Buddy) Knox of Dayton and Jack (Buddy) Walker of Columbus.

BOWLING RESULTS

The Gem Shoes practically won the National league title last night at the Masonic alleys as they swept three games from the Sohoians while the Salem News, the Gems only threat, dropped two out of three to the National Sanitary.

As the result of these scores, the Gems have increased their lead over the News from four to six games. It will be impossible for the News to gain any more than a tie in the race as there are only two matches remaining for both teams.

R. Shepard's 215 and Bob Tubbs' 213 helped the Gems to hit a 943 total in their third game and to finish up with a 2666 team total. Tubbs also rolled a 204 in his second game.

Kovarik topped the individual scores on the Sanitary crew as he chalked up a 212 in the third tilt. Harroff and Hutter turned in a 205 and a 204 in the second game. Primm of the News had 208 in his third try.

The third-place Grate Recreation remained five games ahead of the Sanitary, sweeping three from the Masons.

Grate's racked up 926 in the first game and 913 in the third to wind up with a 2662 total. Dixon of Grate's shot 202 in his first game and 215 in his third. Davis came through with 213 in the third game. G. Hoover had 200 for the Masons in the final tilt.

The Eagles were handed three games on a forfeit by the Moose to go into fifth place a game and a half ahead of the Masons.

L. DeCrow posted 201 in his first try and 202 in his second. Bonnell hit 208 in the third.

The Crescent Juniors and the Scott Smoke Balls continued in a deadlock for first place in the Owl loop at Grate's alleys, the Crescents winning three from the J-C Wildcats and Scott's capturing three from the Amateur Trades on a forfeit.

Max Caplan was high single game man for Scott's with a 215 in the third.

The Amateur Pros trounced the Trades Class three straight to pull up to within one game of the third-place Wildcats.

In the Quaker City tourney play last night at Grate's, Floding & Reynard defeated the Moose, 2689 to 2515.

Floding's, with the aid of an 81-pin handicap per game, turned in a 913 in the first tilt and a 935 in the third. H. Albright hit 213 and A. Lind 201 in the third game for Floding's.

The Ford V-8 women downed the Holloway's of Columbiana, 2435 to 2213, in a special match last night. Hull had a 205 in the first game and Orr a 200 in the second for the V-8's.

Wear and Tear Job
LOS ANGELES—Attendants at the county pound sought higher pay to offset wear and tear on their job.

They insisted it was becoming too costly to mend rips in clothing—and skin—infllicted by unfriendly hounds.

Their salary jumped $15 monthly to $136.

Dr. Dafoe gave these famous girls Puretest HIGH POTENCY COD LIVER OIL

There's a good reason why Doctor Dafoe specified Puretest High Potency Cod Liver Oil for the Dionne Quintuplets. Puretest is the very cream of the world's cod liver oil supply—rich in Vitamins A and D—fine in flavor—the oil you'll want for yourself or for your children.

FEDERAL APPROVAL SOUGHT BY STATE

COLUMBUS, April 16.—Federal approval is the next step in a state conservation and natural resources commission program for leasing fence rows to develop game cover, particularly in northwestern and central sections of the state.

At its April meeting the commission appropriated $40,000 for the program. If the federal government approves the plan, it will reimburse the state for 75 per cent of the funds expended, taking necessary money from ammunition and gun taxes levied under the Pittman-Robertson act for game management purposes.

The commission also appropriated funds for acquiring the Modus lands near Sandusky bay for a game preserve.

Opened Lake Hope in Zaleski state forest to fishing after 4 a.m. Sunday, except at night.

Banned motorboat trolling in Buckeye Lake "east of a line from a cement house on the north shore to Bumcrat's point on the west shore;" and Scheduled a public hearing for June 10 on fall and winter game regulations.

LEAGUE UMPIRES DISCUSS RULINGS

COLUMBUS, April 16.—George M. Trautman, prexy of the American association, scheduled a session today with his octet of umpires as the last bit of business before the opening contests Thursday.

Last year the association had a 10-man umpiring staff, but this season the number was cut to eight, and three of them are newcomers. "There are a flock of little umpiring wrinkles to be ironed out at the meeting," Trautman said. "Otherwise everything is all set for the opening games. The clubs are in fine fettle after the southern training trips, the parks have been manicured until they shine, and if the weather gives us a break we'll have some outstanding crowds for the openers. It looks like a great season."

KEEP DOGS TIED UP IS POLICE WARNING

Owners of dogs which are running at large today were threatened with court proceedings by Mayor Norman Phillips, following reports that four persons had been bitten by stray dogs within the past few days.

"Let this serve as a warning," the mayor said, "and if dogs are found loose hereafter, police not only will impound the animals but will bring the owners into court."

Doctors reported to the mayor that they had treated two children and two men for dog bites.

It also was pointed out that dogs at this time of the year cause damage to lawns, shrubbery and garden plots.

During the last 33 years, the total lumber cut in the U. S. amounted to more than a trillion (1,000 billion) board feet.
